OVW STOP Violence Against Women Formula Grant Program (CFDA 16.588)

Overview

About the Office on Violence Against Women

The Office on Violence Against Women (OVW) is a component of the United States Department of Justice (DOJ or the Department). Created in 1995, OVW implements the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) and subsequent legislation and provides national leadership against domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking. Since its inception, OVW has launched a multifaceted approach to responding to these crimes. By forging state, local and tribal partnerships among police, prosecutors, the judiciary, victim advocates, health care providers, faith leaders, and others, OVW grants help provide victims with the protection and services they need to pursue safe and healthy lives and enable communities to hold offenders accountable.

About the OVW STOP Violence Against Women Formula Grant Program

This solicitation provides program and application guidelines for FY 2008 Services*Training*Officers*Prosecutors (STOP) Violence Against Women Formula Grant Program (STOP Program) funding, including guidelines for requirements of the VAWA as amended. By statute, the STOP Program supports communities in their efforts to develop and strengthen effective law enforcement and prosecution strategies to combat violent crimes against women and to develop and strengthen victim services in cases involving violent crimes against women.

Deadline: Registration

The Grants Management System (GMS) registration deadline is December 16, 2007. It may take up to one week for you to receive confirmation that you are eligible to apply. Applicants should retain proof of timely submission.

NOTE: OVW discretionary competitive programs are required to submit their applications through Grants.gov. However, the STOP Violence Against Women Formula Grant Program is not a discretionary program. It will continue to be submitted through GMS.

Deadline: Application

The due date for applying for funding under this announcement is 8:00 p.m. E.S.T. on January 31, 2008.

Eligibility

Funding to Faith-Based and Community Organizations: Consistent with President George W. Bush's Executive Order 13279, dated December 12, 2002, and 28 C.F.R. Part 38, it is DOJ policy that faith-based and community organizations that statutorily qualify as eligible applicants under DOJ programs are invited and encouraged to apply for assistance awards to fund eligible grant activities. Faith-based and community organizations will be considered for awards on the same basis as any other eligible applicants and, if they receive assistance awards, will be treated on an equal basis with all other grantees in the administration of such awards. No eligible applicant or grantee, will be discriminated for or against on the basis of its religious character or affiliation, religious name, or the religious composition of its board of directors.

Faith-based organizations (FBOs) receiving DOJ assistance awards retain their independence and do not lose or have to modify their religious identity (e.g., removing religious symbols) to receive assistance awards. DOJ grant funds, however, may not be used to fund any inherently religious activity, such as prayer or worship. Inherently religious activity is permissible, although it cannot occur during an activity funded with DOJ grant funds; rather, such religious activity must be separate in time or place from the DOJ-funded program. Further, participation in such activity by individuals receiving services must be voluntary. Programs funded by DOJ are not permitted to discriminate in the provision of services on the basis of a beneficiary's religion.

In order to ensure compliance with both the applicable anti-discrimination provision in the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act (42 USC 3789d(c)(1)) and the Religious Freedom Restoration Act (RFRA), additional certifications will be required where an FBO seeking federal funding under this program makes hiring decisions on the basis of religious belief (see the Department's position paper at www.usdoj.gov/fbci/effect-rfra.pdf). Additional information concerning the certifications requirements will be forthcoming.

NOTE: Faith-based and community organizations are eligible to apply for STOP Formula sub-grants. However, all programs must apply through their respective states for such funding.

Eligible applicants for the STOP Program include any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Guam, and the Northern Mariana Islands, hereafter referred to as states and territories. To be eligible for funds, states and territories must certify that they are in compliance with the statutory eligibility requirements of the Program.<sup>1</sup> The Certification of Compliance with the Statutory Eligibility Requirements of the Violence Against Women Act (as Amended) form, must be signed and submitted annually by the Authorized Representative to demonstrate compliance with these requirements. (This form can be found at Appendix A).

1. With respect to the VAWA requirement concerning costs for criminal charges and protection orders, a state or territory must certify:
  - that its laws, policies, and practices do not require, in connection with the prosecution of any misdemeanor or felony domestic violence offense, or in connection with the filing, issuance, registration, or service of a protection order,

<sup>1</sup>STOP Program applicants must provide a brief description of the status of their compliance with the requirements and submit copies of any legislative or administrative rule changes regarding these requirements that have occurred since submission of the state's last application for STOP funds.

or a petition for a protection order, to protect a victim of domestic violence, stalking, or sexual assault, that the victim bear the costs associated with the filing of criminal charges against the offender, or the costs associated with the filing, issuance, registration, or service of a warrant, protection order, petition for a protection order, or witness subpoena, whether issued inside or outside the state, tribal, or local jurisdiction.

2. With respect to the VAWA requirement concerning forensic medical examination payment for victims of sexual assault, a state or territory must certify:
  - the state or territory, Indian tribal government, unit of local government, or another governmental entity incurs the full out-of-pocket cost of forensic medical exams for victims of sexual assault.
  - that, by January 5, 2009, it will not require a victim of sexual assault to participate in the criminal justice system or cooperate with law enforcement in order to be provided with a forensic medical exam, reimbursement for charges incurred on account of such an exam, or both.

NOTE: STOP funds may now be used to pay for forensic medical exams performed by trained examiners for victims of sexual assault, except that such funds may not be used to pay for forensic medical exams if victims of sexual assault are required to seek reimbursement for such exams from their insurance carriers.

3. With respect to the VAWA requirement concerning judicial notification, a state or territory must certify:
  - that its judicial administrative policies and practices include notification to domestic violence offenders of the requirements delineated in section 922(g)(8) and (g)(9) of title 18 of the United States Code, and any applicable related Federal, State, or local laws; or that its judicial administrative policies and practices will be in compliance with the above within the later of
    - ✓ the period ending on the date on which the next session of the State legislature ends; or
    - ✓ January 5, 2008.

4. With respect to the VAWA requirement prohibiting polygraph testing, a state or territory must certify:
  - that, not later than January 5, 2009, their laws, policies, or practices will ensure that no law enforcement officer, prosecuting officer or other government official shall ask or require an adult, youth, or child victim of an alleged sex offense as defined under Federal, tribal, state, territorial, or local law to submit to a polygraph examination or other truth telling device as a condition for proceeding with the investigation of such an offense.
  - the refusal of a victim to submit to a polygraph or other truth telling examination shall not prevent the investigation, charging, or prosecution of an alleged sex offense by a state, Indian tribal government, territorial government, or unit of local government.

For more information on these requirements, go to the OVW Web site, which can be found at www.usdoj.gov/ovw.

OVW STOP Violence Against Women Formula Grant Program – Specific Information

Jessica Gonzales Victim Assistants shall have expertise in domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking and may undertake the following activities—

- ✓ Developing, in collaboration with prosecutors, courts, and victim service providers, standardized response policies for local law enforcement agencies, including triage protocols to ensure that dangerous or potentially lethal cases are identified and prioritized;
  - ✓ Notifying persons seeking enforcement of protection orders as to what responses will be provided by the relevant law enforcement agency;
  - ✓ Referring persons seeking enforcement of protection orders to supplementary services (such as emergency shelter programs, hotlines, or legal assistance services); and
  - ✓ Taking other appropriate action to assist or secure the safety of the person seeking enforcement of a protection order.

As such, states are responsible for ensuring that each subgrantee receiving funds under this purpose area will receive the required annual training. States are also responsible for ensuring that subgrantees submit their 2 year report to the Department. States and territories must notify and provide OVW with a list of subgrantee recipients awarded STOP funds under the Crystal Judson Domestic Violence Protocol Program.

Program Priorities

The emphasis of the STOP Program continues to be on the implementation of comprehensive strategies addressing violence against women that are sensitive to the needs and safety of victims and hold offenders accountable for their crimes. States and territories should seek to carry out these strategies by forging lasting partnerships between the criminal justice system and victim advocacy organizations and by encouraging communities to look beyond traditional resources and to look to new partners to respond more vigorously to domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking crimes, such as faith-based and community organizations.

In shaping their strategies for Federal Fiscal Year 2008, states and territories are encouraged to develop and support projects to:

- implement community-driven initiatives, utilizing faith-based and community organizations, to address the needs of underserved, cultural and linguistic populations as defined by VAWA, including people with disabilities and elder victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking;
- address sexual assault and stalking through service expansion; development and implementation of protocols; training for judges, other court personnel, prosecutors, and law enforcement; and development of coordinated community responses to violence against women;
- enhance or strengthen statewide collaboration efforts among law enforcement, prosecution, non-profit/non-governmental victim service providers, and courts in addressing violence against women.

Program Requirements

Upon satisfying the application requirements, a state or territory shall be qualified for funds under the STOP Program provided that the state or territory complies with the following program requirements:

Program Purposes

The funds will be used for any of the fourteen statutory purpose areas listed previously and set forth in the STOP Program statute.

Consultation and Documentation Requirement

State applications must now include “documentation showing that tribal, territorial, state, or local prosecution, law enforcement, and courts have consulted with tribal, territorial, state or local victim services programs during the course of developing their grant applications in order to ensure that proposed activities and equipment acquisitions are designed to promote the safety, confidentiality, and economic independence of victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking and dating violence.” 42 U.S.C. § 3796gg–(d) (4).

STOP Implementation Plan

In 2007, all states and territories should have submitted a new or substantially revised implementation plan covering a 3-year period. In Federal Fiscal Year 2008 and Federal Fiscal Year 2009, the state or territory fulfills the implementation plan requirement by providing to OVW a certification that indicates whether or not the three-year plan has changed. If the implementation plan has not changed, the state or territory should so indicate in the letter and submit it to the appropriate STOP Unit Program Manager in OVW for approval within 120 days after receiving the award. If there are revisions to the 3-year plan, the state's or territory's revised implementation plan must be identified by letter and mailed to the appropriate STOP Unit Program Manager in OVW for approval within 120 days after receiving the award. Regardless if changes were made to the 3-year plan, all states and territories must submit a copy of the state's or territory's most recent census data relating to underserved populations and submit this information along with the certification or revised implementation plan.

Applicants are reminded that they will not be able to draw down all funds until their implementation plan has been approved by OVW. For assistance in conducting the state planning process and developing implementation plans, please refer to STOP State Implementation Plans: A Tool for Administrators, on the OVW Web site, which is located http://www.usdoj.gov/ovw/docs/implementation\_plan\_tool.pdf.

If grantees submit a revised implementation plan, they must develop their revised implementation plans through deliberative consultation and coordination with a broad range of participants, specifically nongovernmental, nonprofit victim services programs (including sexual assault and domestic violence programs). States and territories must demonstrate through the plan that they have consulted and coordinated in a meaningful way with sexual assault and domestic violence victim services programs and coalitions.

The identification of which victim services programs to consult is at the discretion of each state or territory; however, states should bear in mind that the VAWA defines a victim services program as "a nonprofit, nongovernmental organization that assists domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking victims, including rape crisis centers, domestic violence shelters, faith-based organizations, and other organizations with a documented history of effective work concerning domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault or stalking." States and territories are strongly encouraged to involve representatives from Indian tribal governments in their planning processes and to consider the needs of Indian tribes in developing the state's law enforcement, prosecution, court, and victim services strategies.

A revised implementation plan must describe:

- the process used to redevelop the plan and the involvement of victim services, tribes, diverse populations, programs and advocates;
- major shifts in direction, if any, because of reevaluation or reassessment of previous efforts;
- how the approach to reducing and preventing violence against women this year will build on efforts of previous years;
- the types of programs the grantee intends to support to address revised efforts with grant dollars;
- whether revised program will target the Crystal Judson Domestic Violence Protocol Program; and
- how the success of revised grant-funded activities will be evaluated.

The implementation plan also should describe how the state or territory will achieve and ensure the following:

- the continued equitable distribution of monies on a geographic basis, including nonurban and rural areas of various geographic sizes; and
- recognition and meaningful response to the needs of underserved populations and ensure that monies set aside to fund linguistically and culturally specific services and activities for underserved populations are distributed equitably among those populations.

Allocation of Funds

The Implementation Plan must clearly state that, of the total award amount:

- at least 5 percent will be allocated for state and local courts including juvenile courts;
- at least 25 percent will be allocated for law enforcement;
- at least 25 percent will be allocated for prosecutors;
- at least 30 percent will be allocated for nonprofit, nongovernmental victim services, of which at least 10 percent is to be distributed to culturally specific community-based organizations; and
- briefly summarize how Administrative funds will be distributed.

This is a statutory requirement. These allocations may not be redistributed or transferred to another funding allocation area. States and territories have 24 months (the duration of the grant period) to meet the statutory funding allocations. The remainder of the funds (15%) may be spent at the discretion of the state or territory to address the statutory program purposes described previously. Grantees are required to submit only total cost estimates, not category-specific amounts, for each subgrant. Decisions about the allocation of STOP Program funds must be made in a manner that avoids any conflicts of interest as described in the OJP Financial Guide.<sup>4</sup>

Activities That May Compromise Victim Safety

Ensuring victim safety is a guiding principle underlying this Program. Experience has shown that certain practices may compromise victim safety rather than enhance it. Certain responses by the authorities may have the effect of minimizing or trivializing the offender's criminal behavior. Accordingly, consistent with the goals of ensuring victim safety while holding perpetrators accountable for the criminal conduct, applicants are strongly discouraged from proposing projects that include any activities that may compromise victim safety, such as the following:

- offering perpetrators the option of entering pre-trial diversion programs;
- mediation or counseling for couples as a systemic response to domestic violence or sexual assault;

- requiring victims to report sexual assault, stalking, or domestic violence crimes to law enforcement or forcing victims to participate in criminal proceedings;
- court mandated batterer intervention programs that do not use the coercive power of the criminal justice system to hold batterers accountable for their behavior;
- placing of batterers in anger management programs; and
- procedures that would force victims of domestic violence to testify against their abusers or impose other sanctions on them; rather, procedures that provide victims the opportunity to make an informed choice about whether to testify are encouraged.

Unallowable Activities

Grant funds under the STOP Violence Against Women Formula Grant Program may not be used for any unauthorized purposes, including but not limited to the following activities:

- lobbying;
- fundraising;
- research projects;
- building renovations;

Match Requirement

Awards to states and territories made under this grant program may support up to 75 percent of the total cost of each project. The state is responsible for ensuring compliance with the 25 percent nonfederal match requirement.

Exception: VAWA 2005, as amended, created a new provision eliminating match in certain circumstances and providing for waivers of match in other circumstances. Specifically, 42 U.S.C. § 13925 (b)(1) provides:

No matching funds shall be required for any grant or subgrant made under this Act for—

- any tribe, territory, or victim service provider; or
- any other entity, including a State, that—
  - ✓ Petitions for a waiver of any match condition imposed by the Attorney General or the Secretaries of Health and Human Services or Housing and Urban Development; and
  - ✓ Whose petition for a waiver is determined by the Attorney General or the Secretaries of Health and Human Services or Housing and Urban Development to have adequately demonstrated the financial need of the petitioning entity.

NOTE: This provision does not relieve the state from providing the full 25 percent match unless the state requests and receives a waiver. OVW has developed a separate Frequently Asked Questions Sheet on match waivers and an information sheet to be faxed to agencies, including states and territories, requesting waivers. For more information and copies of these documents, please contact your OVW Program Manager or consult the OVW Web site, <http://www.usdoj.gov/ovw/>.

The following provisions apply to match requirements:

- The state may satisfy the match requirement with either cash (e.g., funds contributed from private sources or state and local governments) or in-kind services (e.g., services or goods donated by the applicant organization or other entities).
- Funds from other Federal sources may not be used to meet the match requirement. A state may use its discretion to require some or all of its subgrantees (except victim services organizations) to meet the match requirement, in whole or in part. OVW encourages states to consider the ability of subgrantees to meet match requirements when deciding whether and how much of the match to pass on; however, the state remains responsible to satisfy the match requirement.
- Funds or in-kind resources used as match must be directly related to the project goals and objectives.
- Grantees or subgrantees “must maintain records which clearly show the source, the amount, and the timing of all matching contributions.”<sup>5</sup>
- Sources of match are restricted to the same requirements under the STOP Program and must be documented in the same manner as STOP Program funds, including financial and programmatic reports.
- The state must calculate its match based on the entire STOP formula award, including amounts states are allowed to allocate for administrative expenses.

The amount of the required match contribution is calculated as follows:

$$\frac{\text{Federal funds}}{75\%} = \text{Amount} \times 25\% = \text{match}$$

For a federal award amount of $600,000, the match would be:

$$\frac{$600,000 \text{ (Federal funds)}}{75\%} = $800,000 \times 25\% = $200,000 \text{ match.}$$

Grantees are advised that further guidance on the calculation, documentation and auditing of the match requirement can be found in the OJP Financial Guide and on the OVW Web site. Copies of the Guide are available from the Department of Justice Response Center at 1-800-421-6770 or on-line at <http://www.ojp.usdoj.gov/FinGuide/>. For more information and ideas regarding match, please see the OVW Web site at http://www.usdoj.gov/ovw/docs/match\_requirement.pdf.

Training and Technical Assistance

OVW holds an annual STOP Administrators conference to provide STOP Administrators with the forum to share and enhance critical information for the STOP Formula Grant Program. Because of the passage of the Violence Against Women Act of 2005 (VAWA 2005), it is especially crucial that all STOP administrators participate in upcoming training and technical assistance opportunities. VAWA 2005 includes significant changes that affect the STOP Program. Most important, the program is subject to four new, statutory certification requirements that will directly impact the eligibility of States to continue to receive STOP funds. There are also several other new statutory provisions and purpose areas that must be implemented by the States. Without sufficient training, States may not be able to certify their eligibility for funding or appropriately administer their STOP Program funds. This information will be disseminated through the STOP annual conference.

Training and technical assistance are critically important to developing the capacity of state, local, tribal, and nonprofit entities to respond to violence against women. As you know, OVW supports technical assistance providers to give OVW grantees and others in the field the training, expertise, and problem-solving strategies they need to meet the challenges of addressing domestic violence, sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking. OVW's technical assistance providers offer educational opportunities, conferences, peer-to-peer consultations, site visits, and tailored assistance that allow OVW grantees and others to learn from experts, and one another, about how to respond effectively to crimes of violence against women. OVW expects that grantees from all of its grant programs will take advantage of these important training opportunities and urges all of you to allocate the necessary time and funds for your staff to receive training and technical assistance.

Performance Measures

To assist in fulfilling the Department's responsibilities under the Government Performance and Results Act (GPRA), P.L. 103-62, applicants who receive funding under this solicitation must provide data that measures the results of their work. Performance measures for this solicitation are as follows:

Objective	Performance Measures	Data Grantee Provides
Strengthen partnerships for safer communities and enhance the Nation's capacity to prevent, solve, and control crime.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1) The number and percentage of arrests relative to the number of police responses to domestic violence incidents;</li> <li>2) the number of sexual assault nurse examiners trained;</li> <li>3) the number of victims receiving requested services; and,</li> <li>4) the number of victim advocates supported by grant funding.</li> </ol>	This information will be provided to OVW through annual progress report forms. Please see http://muskie.usm.maine.edu/vawamei/fo_rmstop.htm#dwnfrm for sample State Administrator and subgrantee forms.
